William Davidson

DECEMBER 5, 1922 – MARCH 13, 2009

Recognized as one of the most successful owners in the history of the National Basketball Association, William Davidson transformed the Detroit Pistons into one of the league's model franchises during his tenure as managing partner from 1974-2009. Detroit's 1989, 1990 and 2004 World Championships can be directly attributed to Davidson. In September 2008, his contributions to the game of basketball were honored when he was enshrined into the Naismith Memorial Basketball Hall of Fame.

All future Detroit Pistons' teams will honor the legacy of William Davidson, with a "Mr. D" patch emblazoned on game jerseys.

His pioneering ways kept the team at the league's forefront with such amenities as a state-of-the-art practice facility, solely designed for the Pistons. Team members continue to use the facility each summer working on personal off-season conditioning goals. It has been used for the team's training camp 14 consecutive years, alleviating the need to go off-site for the preseason.

Davidson's World-Champion Pistons were the first professional sports team to have their own plane, Roundball One. Roundball Two, a newer, larger, multimillion-dollar aircraft was purchased in the summer of 1998. Its 42 luxury seats and state-of-the-art video system allows the Pistons to fly in first-class comfort.

In 1998, the Shock joined the Washington Mystics as the first two expansion teams in the WNBA. The team has been one of the top franchises in the league, winning WNBA Championships in 2003, 2006 and 2008. The 2003 season was a banner year for the Shock as they recorded a league-best 25-9 record and were crowned WNBA Champions by defeating the Los Angeles Sparks 2-1 in the WNBA Finals. The Shock set a WNBA attendance record (22,076) in Game 3 of the WNBA Finals and was the first team since 1890 to go from the worst team in a professional sports league to the best team.

In 1999, Davidson became one of just a few multi-sport owners when he, along with former Palace Sports and Entertainment partners David Hermelin and Robert Sosnick, purchased the Tampa Bay Lightning of the National Hockey League. Davidson's vision was confirmed during the 2003-04 season in Tampa, when the Lightning hoisted the Stanley Cup in front of a capacity crowd at the St. Pete Times Forum. Davidson sold the Lightning to a group led by Hollywood producer Oren Koules in July 2008.

During the 2003-04 sports year, he became the first owner in history to win championships in three different professional leagues. The Pistons returned to glory, winning the organization's third championship in franchise history; the Tampa Bay Lightning won its first Stanley Cup; and the Shock won its first WNBA Championship.

In 1988-89, the Pistons began play in The Palace, a state-of-the-art arena built by Davidson. The Palace, combined with the Pistons, formed the foundation of his entertainment business, Palace Sports and Entertainment. With the busiest amphitheatre in the country in DTE Energy Music Theatre (purchased in 1990), Palace Sports & Entertainment brings the best in summer entertainment to its clientele. The company added management of the Meadow Brook Music Festival in the summer of 1994.

Davidson acquired the Detroit Pistons in 1974 from the late Fred Zollner, who founded the team in Fort Wayne, Indiana in the 1940's and moved the franchise to Detroit before the 1957-58 season. Davidson was considered one of the most knowledgeable heads of a NBA franchise and could be found sitting courtside at all Pistons home games.

Davidson was a standout high school and college trackman and played football in the Navy during World War II. Davidson was an inaugural inductee into the Jewish Sports Hall of Fame.

The success of the Detroit Pistons came as no surprise to those who were aware of Davidson's ability to manage people. His secret was simple: Hire competent managers and place the responsibility on them. Davidson received a Bachelor's Degree in Business Administration from the University of Michigan and earned a Juris Doctor's Degree from Wayne State University.

After three years of practicing law, Davidson took over a wholesale drug company. He rescued it from bankruptcy and turned it around in three years. He did the same with a surgical supply company, then took over the Guardian Glass Company, the family business. He guided Guardian through bankruptcy, paid off all debts and returned it to profitability. Today, Guardian Industries is a major worldwide manufacturer of flat glass and related products for the construction and automotive industries.

Davidson's management talents were continually on display in NBA circles throughout his career, where he served as Chairman of the Board of Governors and was active on several committees, including the one that selected former NBA Commissioner Lawrence O'Brien in 1975.

Davidson was heavily involved in the Detroit community. In 1997 he was honored by the Council of Michigan Foundations for his lifelong philanthropic efforts, locally, nationally and internationally. The same year, he was cited in a New York Times article as one of America's most generous donors. Davidson was also one of the "founding fathers" who originated the Pistons/Palace Foundation, a charitable vehicle that has donated more than $20 million dollars in cash and merchandise since 1989. In January, 1995 the foundation worked with the City of Detroit's Parks and Recreation Department to establish the Partnership to Adopt and Renovate Parks for Kids (PARK) Program. The program helps restore Detroit parks, basketball courts, baseball diamonds, running tracks and playground equipment.

In 1992, he donated $30 million to his alma mater, the University of Michigan's School of Business Administration, to establish the William Davidson Institute. The Institute provides assistance to help develop market economies throughout the world. In March 2007, Davidson, and his wife, Karen, donated $75 million to the Hadassah Hospital in Jerusalem. The 700-bed hospital serves the heavily populated area of Jerusalem without regard to religion or ethnicity.

He also endowed the William Davidson Graduate School of Jewish Education at the Jewish Theological Seminary of America in New York and the Technion-Israel Institute of Technology. In 1999, the Davidson Institute of Science Education was established at the Weizmann Institute of Science in Rehovot, Israel.

Locally, Davidson donated a renewable $2 million gift to the Detroit Symphony Orchestra that enabled the organization to make long-term touring plans both in the U.S. and internationally. He also contributed $1 million to support collaborative research, prevention and early detection programs in breast and pediatric cancers at the Karmanos Cancer Institute and Children's Research Center of Michigan.

The Detroit Pistons' ownership group includes Karen Davidson, Ethan Davidson, Bud Gerson, Dorothy Gerson, Oscar Feldman, Warren Coville, Ann Newman and William Wetsman.

Davidson is survived by his wife, Karen and two grown children, Ethan and Marla Karimipour.

LEADERSHIP

TOM WILSON

PRESIDENT AND CHIEF EXECUTIVE OFFICER, PALACE SPORTS & ENTERTAINMENT

PRESIDENT AND CHIEF EXECUTIVE OFFICER, PISTONS

Tom Wilson enters his 18th season as president of the Detroit Pistons and 21st as president of Palace Sports and Entertainment, Inc. During his 32-year tenure as the team's top business executive, the Pistons have won three NBA Championships (1989, 1990, 2004) and evolved into one of the best-marketed and most highly-valued teams in professional sports. Since the 1985 season, the Pistons have reached the NBA's Eastern Conference Finals 11 times. The Los Angeles Lakers, with 12, are the only team in any other major professional sports league to have made it to the final four round more than 11 times.

Palace Sports & Entertainment has enjoyed unprecedented success over the past eight years, becoming the first sports franchise to win three major titles (NBA Championship, Stanley Cup and WNBA Championship) during the 2003-04 sports year. The Detroit Shock won its second WNBA crown in 2006 and, in February 2005, ESPN The Magazine named the Detroit Pistons as the number one franchise in professional sports according to its annual survey. In 2007-08 the Pistons made their sixth consecutive trip to the Eastern Conference Finals for the first time in franchise history and won their sixth Central Division crown in seven years.

Elevating Wilson to the presidency in 1992, Managing Partner William Davidson stressed the importance of building a structure within the organization that will have a long-term effect.

Since joining the Pistons in 1977, Wilson has handled all business aspects of not only the Detroit Pistons, but also of Palace Sports and Entertainment, which includes The Palace of Auburn Hills, DTE Energy Music Theatre, Meadow Brook Music Festival and the Detroit Shock. He was named Employee of the Year for 1990 by Guardian Industries, the Pistons' and The Palace's parent company. The award marked the first time Guardian Industries gave the honor to an employee outside of its direct glass manufacturing and fabrication divisions.

The Palace of Auburn Hills was designed largely around Wilson's input and he was responsible for staffing and developing organizational philosophies for the arena. Wilson's ability to create a family atmosphere among his staff and guests has produced entertainment at its best. Enhancing the Palace experience, The Caesars Windsor Club was introduced in October 2001 and the Caesars Windsor Suite Level opened in September 2002 offering fans additional entertainment opportunities before and after every Palace event. The popular KeyBank Club and Vito Anthony Suites were added on the event level of the building in 2005. These new areas allow guests to experience unique views and exciting entertainment possibilities at each Palace event. Further expansion in 2006 yielded the sparkling new Comcast Pavilion and concourse. The concourse level boasts several food and beverage options including Detroit staples Big Boy, Buffalo Wild Wings, Sanders Ice Cream and the popular Red Bull Bar. Fans can further enjoy their experience by visiting the upscale Ameriprise Club located on the top level of the Atrium.

Under his direction, The Palace has earned Arena of the Year awards nine times by Performance magazine, beginning with New Venue of the Year in 1988. The Palace was also named Arena of the Year by Pollstar after receiving that publication's Best New Concert Venue honors for 1988. Wilson's direction was instrumental in the acquisition and renovation of DTE Energy Music Theatre as well, and he remains actively involved in the operational phase and the ongoing improvement of the facility.

DTE Energy Music Theatre has been named the nation's busiest, top-grossing or highest attended outdoor venue by Amusement Business in each of its 18 summers under Wilson's guidance. It was named Best Outdoor Concert Venue in Pollstar's 2000 Readers' Poll and has also been nominated Amphitheatre of the Year during each summer of PS & E ownership. In 1994 Palace Sports and Entertainment assumed management of Meadow Brook Music Festival on the grounds of Oakland University in Rochester, Michigan.

As executive administrator of Palace Sports and Entertainment, Wilson is ultimately responsible for the day-to-day operations of its sales, advertising, marketing and broadcasting departments.

Under Wilson's guidance, the Detroit Shock of the Women's National Basketball Association was added to Palace Sports and Entertainment in the summer of 1998. Since its inception, the club has won three WNBA titles (2003, 2006 and 2008). Recording a league-best 24-10 record in 2007, the Shock missed a bid to win back-to-back WNBA Championships, losing to Phoenix in Game 5 of The Finals in front of a league record 22,076 fans at The Palace. The 2003 season was a banner year for the Shock as they recorded a league-best 25-9 record and were crowned WNBA Champions by defeating the Los Angeles Sparks 2-1 in the WNBA Finals. The Shock set a WNBA attendance record (22,076) in Game 3 of the WNBA Finals and was the first team since 1890 to go from the worst team in a professional sports league to the best team.

JOE DUMARS

PRESIDENT OF BASKETBALL OPERATIONS

Known as one of the great competitors in the NBA throughout his 14-year playing career, "Joe D" – as he commonly referred to around the Detroit area – is entering his 10th full season as president of basketball operations in 2009-10 and his 25th overall in the NBA. The 46-year-old Louisiana native was promoted to his current position after serving as the club's vice president of player personnel during the 1999-00 season.

Bold personnel decisions and an unwillingness to settle for mediocrity have become trademarks of Dumars' leadership over the last nine years, and, as the Pistons transition into new era of Detroit Basketball, the 2003 Sporting News NBA Executive of the Year continues striving to keep the organization among the NBA's elite. Since being named as president of basketball operations on June 6, 2000, Joe Dumars has transformed the organization from a team that won 32 games in 2000-01 to a team that has compiled a record of 423-233 (.645) over the last eight years.

Over the last eight years, the club has won an NBA Championship (2004), compiled 73 playoff wins and made six consecutive trips to the Eastern Conference Finals, the most since the Los Angeles Lakers went to six straight from 1984 to 1989. In 2007-08, the club won 50-plus games for a franchise record seventh consecutive season and won its sixth Central Division title in seven years. In 2005-06, Detroit recorded its best regular-season record in franchise history (64-18), and, in 2004-05, the club won its second consecutive Eastern Conference Championship and reached the NBA Finals in consecutive seasons for the first time since 1989 and 1990. Dumars' efforts over the last decade have not gone unnoticed, as he was named the NBA Executive of the Decade by The Sporting News in September 2009.

His keen eye for talent has paved the way for Detroit's resurgence. Dumars' past personnel moves have landed Detroit 2004 NBA Finals MVP Chauncey Billups, four-time NBA Defensive Player of the Year Ben Wallace and NBA All-Stars Richard Hamilton, Rasheed Wallace and Antonio McDyess. In addition, Dumars has drafted key talent equally important to Detroit's current and future success. Tayshaun Prince (No. 23 pick in 2002), Jason Maxiell (No. 26 pick in 2005), Rodney Stuckey (No. 15 pick in 2007) and Austin Daye (No. 15 pick in 2009) all play important roles in the future success of the franchise.

While the success and honors the club has enjoyed over the last eight seasons has been well documented, Dumars continues to stress the importance of continued improvement. That is why the 2009 offseason has brought with it many changes and new faces. Dumars brought back a familiar face when he named John Kuester as the 27th head coach in franchise history. Kuester, a 14-year NBA assistant, was the lead assistant under Larry Brown during Detroit's 2004 NBA Championship season. During the free agency period, he landed Ben Gordon, the former 2005 NBA Sixth Man of the Year winner, and Charlie Villanueva, a player many in basketball believe is ready for a breakout season. Completing a busy offseason, Dumars signed veteran centers Chris Wilcox and Ben Wallace to provide depth and stability in the front court, and also signed 2009 draft picks Austin Daye, DaJuan Summers and Jonas Jerebko.

Dumars' Detroit beginning coincided with one of the most successful eras in Pistons basketball history. Following a 46-36 rookie campaign in 1985-86, Dumars' teams won 50-plus games each of the next five seasons and two NBA Championships (1989, 1990). He won the first of many NBA honors following the team's 63-19 record in 1988-89, being named to the NBA's All-Defensive First Team. The six-time NBA All-Star was named Most Valuable Player of the 1989 NBA Finals, following the club's successful back-to-back defense of the NBA Championship. Dumars was named first team NBA All-Rookie in 1985-86 and first team NBA All-Defense four times (1988-89, 1989-90, 1991-92 and 1992-93). He was named All-NBA Third Team for 1989-90 and 1990-91 and All-NBA Second Team in 1992-93 when he averaged a career-best 23.5 points per game.

Dumars retired from the game as a player following the 1998-99 NBA season and moved to the front office with a goal of helping return the team to the place that he and his "Bad Boys" teammates knew so well; the NBA Finals. He played in The NBA Finals three times, winning championship rings in 1989 and 1990. His basketball acumen and insights into the game and its players will undoubtedly be beneficial to the organization as it continues to pursue its goals. Dumars, who became the seventh Pistons player to have their jersey retired, also had the NBA Sportsmanship Award named after him on the same evening. The NBA Sportsmanship Award winner, which recognizes the NBA player who best represents the ideals of sportsmanship on the court, is presented with the Joe Dumars Trophy each year. Dumars was named the inaugural recipient of the NBA Sportsmanship Award in November 1996. Dumars' playing career was recognized with the highest of all honors when he officially enshrined into the Naismith Memorial Basketball Hall of Fame in September 2006.

Drafted out of McNeese State with the 18th selection in the first round of the 1985 NBA Draft, Dumars went on to play 1,018 regular season games for Detroit in 14 seasons, making him the most tenured player in franchise history. He retired as the team's all-time leading three-point shooter with 990 made and its second all-time leading scorer with 16,401 points. The 6-foot-3 shooting guard also ranks second on Detroit's all-time list for assists (4,612), second in steals (902), third in field goals made (5,994), third in field goals attempted (13,026), third in free throws made (3,423) and third in free throws attempted (4,059).

In addition to his role with the Pistons, Dumars maintains a partnership in Joe Dumars Fieldhouse, an indoor multi-sports and entertainment complex located in Shelby Township. A second Joe Dumars Fieldhouse was opened in 2004 in Detroit, Michigan. Dumars was appointed to the executive committee of the United States Tennis Association in January 1999 and was most recently inducted into the Michigan Sports Hall of Fame and Louisiana Sports Hall of Fame in 2003. He fulfilled a lifelong goal in the spring of 2008 when he completed and received his bachelor's degree in business management from McNeese State.

Born on May 24, 1963, in Shreveport, Louisiana, Joe and his wife, Debbie, reside in Detroit with their two children, Jordan (18) and Aren (16).

JOHN KUESTER

HEAD COACH

When Joe Dumars hired John Kuester as the 27th head coach in franchise history on July 9, 2009, he knew that he was hiring a highly regarded coach that has worked for a number of different NBA franchises and coached some of the top players in the game. Kuester has coached 2009 NBA Most Valuable Player LeBron James, 2001 NBA Most Valuable Player and four-time NBA scoring champion Allen Iverson and NBA All-Stars Jason Kidd, Dwight Howard, Vince Carter, Dikembe Mutombo, Chauncey Billups, Richard Hamilton, Rasheed Wallace and Ben Wallace throughout his travels. In addition, 10 of the last 11 teams he has been associated with have made the NBA Playoffs.

While his coaching experiences have brought impressive results, what stood out most for Dumars was the fact that during the Pistons' 2004 NBA Championship season, Kuester was a coach that consistently had the attention of each player on the roster.

"John brings a wealth of NBA knowledge as a long-time assistant coach, including championship experience as an assistant coach with our club in 2004," states Dumars. "He is a coach that our veteran players know well and I feel that he has the teaching ability to allow our younger players to grow and develop."

Kuester, 54, has spent over 14 years in the NBA as an assistant coach with six different franchises (Boston, Philadelphia, Detroit, New Jersey, Orlando and Cleveland). During his tenure as an assistant coach, Kuester has helped guide two teams to the NBA Finals [Philadelphia (2001); Detroit (2004)] and played a major role in helping Cleveland reach the Eastern Conference Finals last season.

For seven seasons (1990-1997), the Richmond, Virginia native was a member of the Boston Celtics organization, serving as assistant coach his final two years. He joined Hall of Fame coach Larry Brown in 1997 and helped guide the Philadelphia 76ers to the playoffs in five of his six seasons with the club, including an NBA Finals appearance in 2001. The North Carolina graduate followed Brown to Detroit where the organization won its third NBA Championship, and then joined the New Jersey Nets staff in 2004-05. Kuester returned to Philadelphia for the 2005-06 season, landed in Orlando in 2006-07 and has helped mold the offensive philosophies for the Cleveland Cavaliers since August of 2007.

Prior to joining the NBA ranks, Kuester served five seasons as head coach at George Washington University from 1985-1990. He became the youngest head coach in NCAA Division I college basketball in 1983 when he succeeded Rick Pitino at Boston University. He was an assistant coach for the Terriers for two seasons prior to his head coaching appointment.

As a collegiate player for four seasons at North Carolina (1973-77) under legendary coach Dean Smith, he helped the Tar Heels win two ACC Championships, make three NCAA Tournament berths and one NIT berth. As a senior, he was voted as the team's best defensive player for the second straight season and was named Most Valuable Player of the ACC Tournament and NCAA East Regionals. That 1977 squad went on to the NCAA Final Four and an appearance in the championship game.

Kuester was selected in the third round (53rd overall) of the 1977 NBA Draft by the Kansas City Kings. He played three seasons in the NBA, one each with Kansas City, Denver and Indiana.

Kuester resides in Oakland Township with his wife, Tricia and has two children, John and Katie. John is a graduate of St. Joseph's University in Philadelphia, while Katie, currently a junior at St. Joe's, is a member of the women's basketball team.

NBA Cares is the league's global community outreach initiative that addresses important social issues such as education, youth and family development, and health and wellness. The NBA, its teams, and players support a range of programs, partners, and initiatives that strive to positively impact children and families worldwide.

As part of the league's mission to demonstrate leadership in social responsibility, NBA Cares reaches communities through philanthropy, hands-on service, and legacy projects. Since the program's October 2005 launch, the league, players, and teams have raised more than $110 million for charity, provided more than one million hours of hands-on service, and built more than 425 places where kids and families can live, learn, or play in communities around the world.

NBA Cares reaches millions of children and adults through special programs like NBA FIT and Basketball without Borders. The league and its teams and players also promote environmental awareness and sustainability through NBA Green. During high-profile league events like NBA All-Star and The Finals, community outreach efforts use the power of sport to effect positive social change.

Thanks to strong partnerships with internationally recognized community organizations such as Make-A-Wish, UNICEF, KaBOOM!, Habitat for Humanity, Boys & Girls Clubs of America, Hands On Network, Special Olympics, the Global Business Coalition on HIV/AIDS, Tuberculosis and Malaria, and the UN Foundation, NBA Cares works to improve communities in need around the world.

OVERTIME

LET'S GO TO WORK.

The Palace of Auburn Hills, home of the Detroit Pistons (NBA), Detroit Shock (WNBA) and numerous concerts, family shows and special events, celebrated its 20th anniversary last year but still remains one of the world's most innovative arenas.

Conceptualized and built by Arena Associates, consisting of Pistons managing partner William Davidson, along with David Hermelin and Robert Sosnick, The Palace was immediately recognized as an all-encompassing entertainment venue and it quickly became one of the nation's top concert facilities. After just one season, The Palace was honored by two entertainment trade publications, being named "New Venue of the Year" by Performance and "Best New Concert Venue" by Pollstar. With the cost of the building and every dollar spent on additions and improvements being privately financed, The Palace continues to uphold its reputation as one of the world's premier sports and entertainment venues.

Overall, The Palace has been nominated "Arena of the Year" 10 times by Performance magazine and won the award seven times. It has also earned 10 "Arena of the Year" nominations from Pollstar magazine and won the honor in 1992. Since its inception, The Palace has hosted almost every major touring concert act.

Since opening in 1988, The Palace has undergone more than $110 million in venue renovations throughout the years. For its 20th birthday in 2008, guests enjoyed a totally refurbished main concourse and its original club/banquet area was updated and re-launched as the Chairman's Club. Among its other notable additions include the West Entrance Atrium, which was completed in 1996 and contains three levels of offices, a storage facility and an expanded entrance with numerous amenities. This was followed by the addition of the 12,000 square-foot Caesars Windsor Club on the concourse level. In 2004, a Light Emitting Diodes (LED) board was installed, allowing for the display of electronic signage around the entire arena and around the state-of-the-art hanging scoreboard during events.

The Palace continued its legacy as America's most innovative arena in 2005 by undertaking its largest enhancement project since its opening. The $30 million new phase included the addition of two sets of exclusive courtside lounge and clubs. The first to open was the President's Club, located under the arena's east seating area, which opened November 2005. The President's Club services five attached 450 square-foot luxury suites as well as all front row season ticket holders.

The project also included a 65,000 square feet expansion of the North Entrance, named the Comcast Pavilion, which opened April 2006. The pavilion's lower level is home to the other set of exclusive club/suites. Club 53, which opened in February 2006, boasts a central club/bar area and eight luxury private suites averaging 1,000 square feet. It is accessible via a private entrance in the Comcast Pavilion and through a tunnel entrance leading to 100 level suite corridor and an exclusive entrance into the arena. The pavilion's concourse level created a dramatic new grand entrance/lobby, which provides guests with additional concourse space, additional box office windows and a new retail area. The new area also increased dining options and amenities in The Palace with café areas featuring Big Boy and Buffalo Wild Wings, the Red Bull Bar and Bacardi Bar. The upper level of the pavilion is the luxurious Ameriprise Financial Club, which has approximately 700 members. Opening approximately the same time was the Sanders Dessert Stop, located on the concourse at the top of the West Entrance stairs, offering sweet treats to guests for all Palace events.

Throughout the years, the organization has added more than a dozen branches. The growth led to a name change, Palace Sports and Entertainment, Inc. (PS&E), to reflect its ever-widening scope of operations. This expansion culminated in 1990 when it purchased DTE Music Theatre (then known as Pine Knob). Since its first summer operating the venue in 1991, the amphitheater has been named the nation's busiest or top-grossing outdoor venue every summer by Amusement Business or Pollstar. Winner of Pollstar's "Best Major Outdoor Concert Venue" in 2000, DTE has been nominated 11 consecutive times for this award which is voted on by a reader's poll. The award capped off the amphitheater's most successful year in which it posted its highest-ever total attendance and was listed as the top amphitheater in Amusement Business' year-end charts and the top-selling outdoor venue on the year-end list of Pollstar.

In 1994, PS&E took over management of Meadow Brook Music Festival, which is housed on the campus of Oakland University in Rochester Hills. Both The Palace of Auburn Hills and Meadow Brook Music Festival have been named "Prime Site Award" winners by Facilities magazine in two consecutive years, 2003 and 2004.

The Shock joined the PS&E family in 1998 and made an immediate impact by posting the highest winning percentage at the time by an expansion team in any professional sport during its inaugural season. They accomplished that feat by going 17-13 for a 56% winning percentage. The Shock later delivered the organization's third championship by winning the 2003 WNBA title and the fifth and sixth championships by winning again in 2006 and 2008.

The company continues to grow as minor league baseball team, the Asheville Tourists, a Class A affiliate of the Colorado Rockies, was added to PS&E ownership during the summer of 2005.

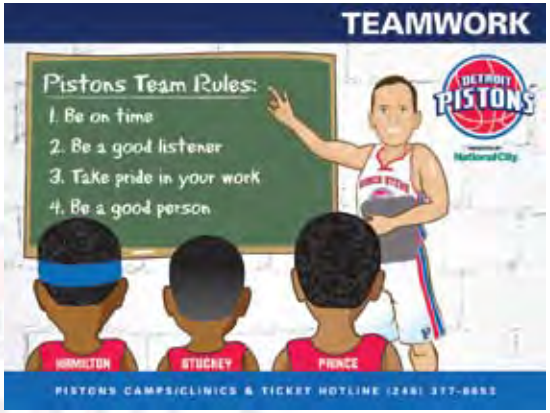
THE DETROIT PISTONS PARTNER PROGRAM PRESENTS… "SKILLS FOR SUCCESS"

The Detroit Pistons are bringing their basketballs, jerseys, whistles and chalkboard as part of our complimentary "Skills For Success" Assembly to your school. Creating a championship environment among students, teachers, staff members and parents is the goal for this highly recognized and award-winning three-part program. The special events will be conducted by Steve Moreland, who is in his 14th year as the Detroit Pistons Director of Development and Basketball Camps/Clinics. The Pistons have appeared at over 1,200 schools statewide during the past 13 years.



Sharing our recipes for success as they relate to building a championship team, our topics will include: setting goals, being on time, working hard and practicing your skills, studying the game plan, playing the game and continuing to improve. Also as part of the fun, selected students and teachers will wear our Detroit Pistons jerseys as they demonstrate good sportsmanship during our Pistons shooting contest.

HERE ARE THE THREE PARTS TO THE PISTONS PARTNER PROGRAM:
For taking the first step in becoming a "Pistons Partner," your school will be awarded a complimentary afternoon Detroit Pistons "Skills For Success" Assembly conducted by "Coach Steve" and his staff. This year's presentation will help establish a successful foundation for learning and everyday living. You will receive an exclusive Detroit Pistons plaque acknowledging your school as a "Detroit Pistons Partner." This 40-minute assembly is available to the first 50 schools that register for the entire program.

The second step of the Pistons Partner Program consists of an after-school basketball clinic held in your school's gymnasium on the same day of the assembly. Our Pistons camp coaching staff will teach the ABC's of basketball to K-5 boys and girls during this 1-1/2 hour session. Clinic participants receive a free Pistons game ticket, a special Detroit Pistons T-shirt, a certificate of participation and various prizes for basketball skill contests.

Investment for each clinic participant is only $25 (regular value of $60)
The $25 fee includes:

- A 1-1/4 hours clinic (regular price $20)
- Special Detroit Pistons T-shirt (regular $15)
- 1 regular season game ticket (regular $25)
- Pistons certificate of participation and prizes for contest winners

The third and final step of our Pistons Partnership with your school wouldn't be complete without an invitation for all students, faculty, families and friends to experience an authentic Pistons Game Day at The Palace of Auburn Hills. For only $20, all fans can attend a Pistons regular-season home game selected by your staff. Make this a memorable night for all to enjoy!

We will acknowledge your school during a pre-game presentation. Your Principal, a selected staff member and several students will represent your school down on the Pistons' home court prior to the game. After the ceremony, everyone can sit back and enjoy exhilarating, action-packed Pistons basketball!

To schedule dates and times for the Pistons Partner Program, please contact Curtis Rybski, Manager – Basketball Camps/Clinics, at (248) 377-8653. Assembly/clinic dates, times, and Pistons game dates are limited to the first 50 schools on a first-come, first-serve basis!
